Have you changed your name or are you signing on behalf of another person?

If you have changed your name or are signing on behalf of the applicant, you will need to provide a certified linking document. A linking document is a document that proves a relationship exists between two (or more) names.

The following table contains information about suitable linking documents.

Purpose	Suitable linking document
Change of name	Marriage certificate, deed poll or change of name certificate from the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Office
Signed on behalf of the applicant	Guardianship papers or Power of Attorney AND A certified copy of the proof of identity for the holder of the Guardianship or Power of Attorney

How to certify documents

All copied papers of original proof of identification documents (including any linking documents) need to be certified as true copies by an individual approved to do so (refer to list below).

The person who is authorised to certify documents must sight the original and the copy and make sure both documents are identical, then make sure all pages have been certified as true copies by writing or stamping 'certified true copy' followed by their signature, printed name, qualification (for example, Justice of the Peace or Bailiff), address and date.

Example of acceptable certification:

'I certify this document of [x] pages to be a true and correct copy of the original.'
