Constructing your investment portfolio

You can build your own portfolio by investing in single asset investment options or using diversified investment options to suit your desired risk profile. We recommend that you consult a financial adviser to assist you in determining these.

One of the significant risks of investing is that your investment strategy does not reflect your financial goals. It is important to consider your investment time frame, your investment goals and your risk tolerance. Diversifying your investments helps manage market volatility and risk across your investment portfolio. Through Generation Life Investment Bonds you can diversify your portfolio in three ways.

Within each asset class

Our investment options invest in a range of underlying securities and assets within an asset class. This means that returns will be less dependent on the performance of a single security or asset. This diversification can help reduce the overall security or asset specific risk of your investment.

Investing in a range of asset classes

Spreading your investment exposure across different asset classes can help reduce the impact of volatility in returns. You can also spread your exposure across different markets and geographical regions.

Investing in different investment styles

Different fund managers have different investment styles and approaches which can perform differently depending on market conditions. Using a mix of investment managers in your portfolio can help smooth out performance volatility and reduce investment manager risk.

Your financial adviser can help you understand investment risk, and design an investment strategy for you. You can find out more about investment risk in the 'Investment risk' section of the Product Disclosure Statement.

How are Generation Life's investment options structured?

Investment structure

When you invest in an investment option your money is combined with other investors that have selected the same investment option in a fund managed by us. All investment options (through their particular fund) invest in assets either directly (by holding the securities or assets through a mandate arrangement) or indirectly through an underlying managed fund or pooled arrangement that invests in asset classes in accordance with the investment option's guidelines.

What is a mandate?

A mandate is an agreement with an investment manager that sets out how the money is to be invested. The mandate may specify an appropriate benchmark, acceptable investments and investment ranges. A mandate structure means that the investments are managed separately on our behalf and are not pooled with the external investment manager's other investors or invested in one of the investment manager's wholesale investment schemes. Therefore, the performance of a mandate may differ from the underlying investment manager's wholesale investment scheme; however, using mandates gives us greater flexibility, including better management of tax outcomes.

Accessing the underlying investment assets

We may invest directly in the underlying investment assets or indirectly through managed investment schemes to gain exposure and administrative efficiencies.

Tax Optimised

Tax Enhanced

Tax Optimised and Tax Enhanced options

All investment options are managed under the Generation Life Tax Aware management process with the aim of delivering a tax-efficient investment outcome. In the case of the Tax Enhanced and Tax Optimised series of investment options, further levels of tax optimisation are provided with the aim of delivering higher levels of tax efficiency and improved after-tax returns for the respective investment strategies.

You can find out more about our Tax Enhanced and Tax Optimised series of investment options in the 'Tax Aware investing' section of the Product Disclosure Statement.

Our investment selection process

Appointed investment managers are subject to initial and ongoing reviews. We regularly monitor and review our investment managers to ensure they continue to meet their stated objectives, performance expectations and our investment requirements.

In constructing and reviewing our appointed investment managers we consider a number of factors in our assessment that may include:

- the objectives of the investment strategy
- the capabilities and experience of the investment manager
- the investment manager's approach or investment style
- the investment manager's investment processes
- performance track record against the stated investment objective
- how risk is managed by the investment manager.

To ensure that we continue to offer a suitable range of investment options, we may change the investment options, including the investment objectives, strategies and investment managers at any time. We may from time-to-time add, remove, or replace investment options or investment managers, or change exposure weightings to the investment options. We may also close an investment option or cease to accept new contributions (including by switching) into any of the investment options.

We will notify affected investors of any material changes to the investment options as required by law. Updated information about our investment options, investment managers and investment strategies can be found on our website www.genlife.com.au

Responsible investing

The Generation Life Investment Bonds offer responsible investment options to help you invest based on your values.

Responsible investing is commonly used to describe a strategy or practice that considers environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors in the analysis, investment decisions and ownership of an investment. These factors can be known to sometimes affect the risk and return of investments.

The strategies underpinning the responsible investing options are constructed with the objective of investing in companies and assets that improve long-term investor value and have a demonstrated consideration and application of ESG factors.

Types of responsible investment approaches that may be used

Exclusionary (or negative screening)

Excludes certain sectors, countries and securities from an investment universe where the activities do not align with investors or global standards.

Inclusionary (or positive screening)

Proactively invests in sectors or companies that demonstrate 'best in class' ESG practices.

Minimum standards screening

Excludes investments that do not meet minimum standards or practices regarding ESG practices.

Impact investing

Targets investments to generate a positive social or environmental impact plus a level of financial return.

ESG integration

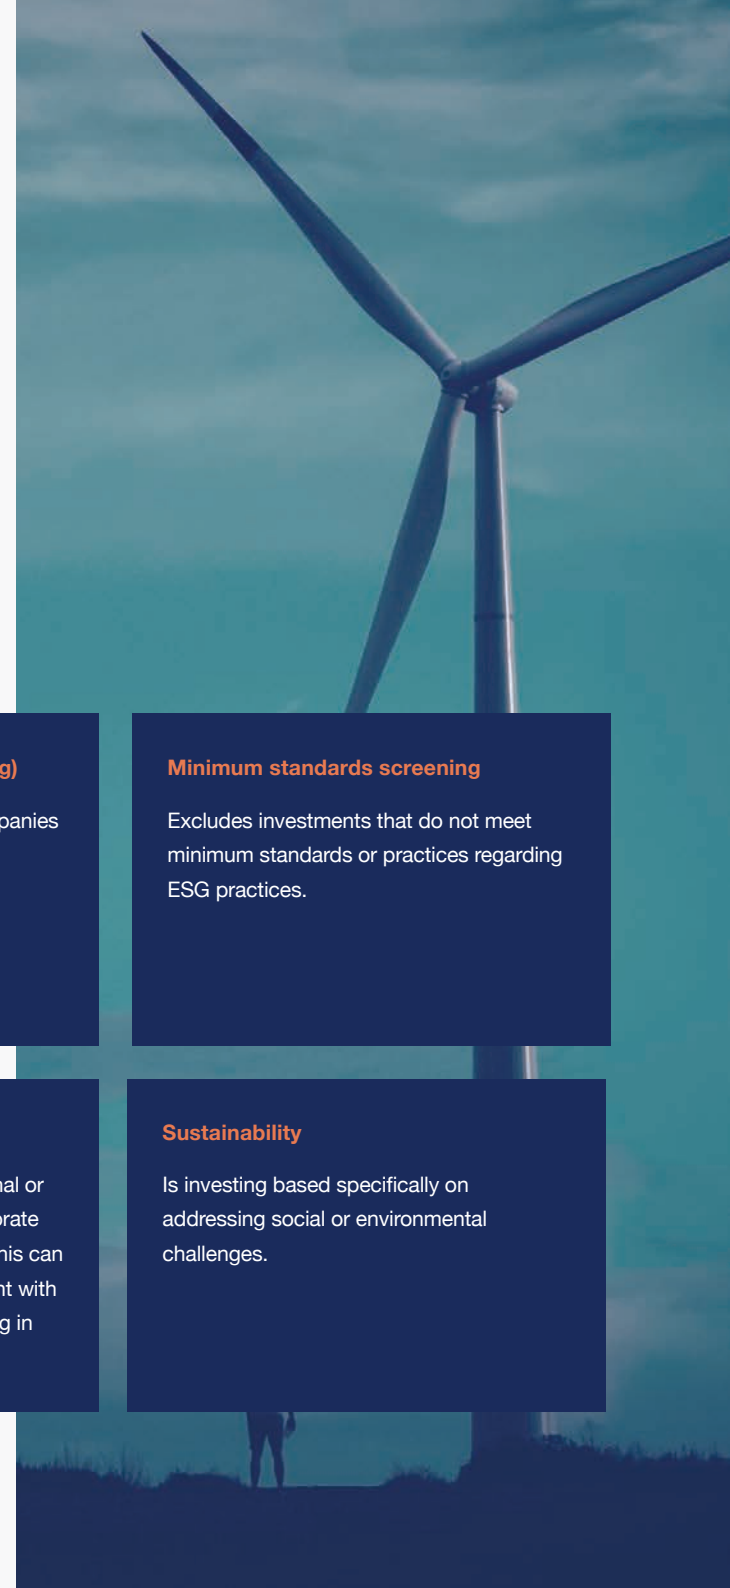

Utilises ESG information together with financial analysis as part of the investment research and decision making process.

Active ownership

Is the use of various resources (internal or external) to positively influence corporate behaviour on ESG - related issues. This can include advocacy efforts, engagement with corporate decision-makers and voting in support of good governance.

Sustainability

Is investing based specifically on addressing social or environmental challenges.

ESG factors

Environmental factors	Social factors	Governance factors
Climate change and greenhouse gases	Supply chains	Board makeup
Pollution and emissions	Privacy protection	Conflicts of interest
Biodiversity	Gender and diversity	Bribery and corruption
Deforestation	Employee engagement	Executive compensation
Energy efficiency	Community relations	Lobbying and political contributions
Waste disposal and management	Human rights	Transparency and reporting
Water usage	Labour standards	Whistle-blower schemes

Our investment options menu includes several investments where responsible investing strategies are implemented. Each Responsible Investing investment option will have a different focus on the core ESG factors and use different approaches to investing.

Responsible investing investment options

Generation Life offers a range of investment options from leading Australian and international fund managers specifically focussed on responsible investing investment approaches.

Our range of Responsible Investing investment options has been developed based on an approach of providing a diverse level of exposure to a number of investment strategies where responsible investing is core to the investment approach. The underlying investment approach for each of the Responsible Investing options offered varies from asset/strategy specific to multi-asset/multi-strategy approaches.

Irrespective of the underlying strategies employed, the fundamental criteria of focusing on financial outcomes while considering the impact of the underlying investment on society must be demonstrated by the investment managers as part of our review and monitoring process. Due diligence is undertaken as part of the appointment and ongoing monitoring process to mitigate the potential for 'greenwashing' or overstatement by the investment manager of the level of responsible investing factored into the investment process.

Each investment manager's approach and responsible investing criteria and objectives will differ, and you should consider whether a strategy meets your specific requirements.

In constructing and monitoring our menu of Responsible Investing investment options on an ongoing basis, a number of quantitative and qualitative factors are considered by Generation Life's investment team including:

- ESG ratings from external data and research providers
- the level of integration of responsible investment principles into the investment manager's processes
- the investment manager's capabilities
- performance track record (against stated objectives)
- other research undertaken by the team.

Importantly, however, we do not assess or stipulate a particular approach to responsible investing, ESG factors or screens that investment managers may apply. Our Responsible Investing investment options are designed to provide a varied choice to cater to investors with different social values and investment objectives. The overarching objective for investment managers is to provide positive financial outcomes while considering ESG and other factors in the process.

Except for the determination of our sustainability range of investment options, we do not consider labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations in our investment decisions. However, we do have an overall policy of always acting legally, acting in the best interests of investors, and dealing with parties who, to the best of our knowledge, are reputable organisations. The investment managers may have their own policies on the extent to which labour standards and environmental, social or ethical considerations are considered in their investment processes. Please refer to a specific investment option's profile for further information about the investment approach taken.

- Investment management costs include investment manager's fees, estimated investment expense recoveries and other indirect costs as a percentage of the total average assets of the investment option based on the latest information available, but excludes investment performance fee costs that may be charged or incurred by the investment manager and exclude indirect transaction and operational costs (refer to the Product Disclosure Statement for further information about fees and costs).
- Fee is inclusive of the management fee, other management costs and the administration fee.
- Performance fee costs are generally based on the average of actual performance fee costs of the investment manager for the respective investment option (other than the Evergreen Responsible Growth Model which reflects an estimate based on the performance fees of the investment option's underlying investments and the expected portfolio of the investment option) incurred over the previous five financial years (or less if the underlying investment strategy has been in operation by the investment manager for a shorter period) and based on the latest information available. However, the actual performance fee payable (if any) will depend on the performance of the investment option and the performance fee estimate provided is not an indicator of future performance fees of the investment option.

Tax aware level

Objective

To achieve a return of CPI plus 4% to 5% p.a. (before fees and tax) over rolling 3-year periods while minimising the incidence and size of negative returns in doing so. CPI is defined as the Reserve Bank of Australia's Trimmed Mean, as published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics.

Investment approach

The manager's approach to inflation plus (or real return) investing is to choose the portfolio that has the highest probability of achieving the required return objective over the investment horizon with the least expected variability around this objective. The fund employs an objective based asset allocation framework in which both asset market risk premium, and consequently the asset allocation of the portfolio are constantly reviewed. The portfolio will reflect those assets that in combination are most closely aligned to the delivery of the objective.

Allocation guidelines

Investments are predominantly in traditional assets, with no leverage and strict limits on exposure to liquidity constrained alternatives which enhances the transparency and liquidity of the portfolios. Assets are classified in three broad types of investments according to the likely returns and the risk:

- Growth assets, typically shares and property securities;
- Diversifying assets, typically higher yielding debt, objective based investments and alternatives; and
- Defensive assets, typically investment grade debt securities, cash and equivalent investments.

Investment approach
The manager is a specialist 'relative value' fixed income investment manager. The manager's differentiated pure 'relative value' investing approach offers a compelling alternative to conventional fixed income investments because it is independent of the prevailing interest rate environment and how bond markets are performing. The manager believes the pure 'relative value' opportunity set is a proven reliable source of returns because it is driven by structural market inefficiencies that create new 'relative value' mispricing opportunities to profit from. The manager focuses on delivering consistent volatility-controlled returns in order to strictly limit performance volatility and prioritise capital preservation, irrespective of the market environment. Tax aware level

Objective
Aims to deliver returns (before fees and taxes) above those of the S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Total Return Index over rolling 5-year periods by investing in a portfolio of Australian emerging companies.

Investment approach
The portfolio's strategy offers investors exposure to a long-term, concentrated portfolio of high quality, small cap Australian listed equities. The manager seeks to identify good quality emerging businesses that are mispriced by overlaying its quality filter, referred to as the 'quality web', with a strong valuation discipline. The manager defines quality companies as those with earnings strength, superior industry position, sound balance sheet, strong management and low ESG risk. The assessment of a company's quality is overlaid with a detailed valuation assessment seeking to exploit mispriced, market inefficiencies. The manager's security selection process has a strong bottom-up discipline and focuses on buying quality emerging businesses at reasonable prices. The process involves comprehensive company and industry research, company visits and meetings, and detailed valuation analysis and modelling. This information is used to assess the quality of a business and the expected return. The portfolio construction process considers stock weightings based on the risk versus the expected return. It is also influenced by a top-down economic appraisal, sector exposures and liquidity considerations. The investment approach is long-only and is intended to result in a style-neutral, concentrated portfolio that is high conviction and invests over a five-year period. The fund does not use derivatives and does not intend to borrow.

Aims to provide capital appreciation over the longer term by investing in a concentrated portfolio of global shares and aims to outperform the MSCI World Index (with net dividends reinvested) unhedged, measured in AUD over a full market cycle, before taking into account investment fees, expenses and tax.

Investment approach

The manager uses an active bottom-up investment approach to buying and selling investments. Investments are selected primarily based on fundamental analysis of individual issuers and their potential in light of their financial condition, and market, economic, political and regulatory conditions. Factors considered may include analysis of an issuer's earnings, cash flows, competitive position and management ability. Objective

Aims to simultaneously create a positive and verifiable environmental and social impact whilst targeting a total return in excess of the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index² hedged to Australian dollars (before fees and tax) over rolling three-year time periods.

Investment approach

The fund will invest primarily in investment grade global fixed income instruments, investing for the medium and longer term. The verification process is one of positive selection to identify and verify issues and issuers that deliver a meaningful and measurable impact. The fund invests in bonds that fulfil its sustainability criteria, which covers a broad range of factors such as credit worthiness of the issuer, environment/social benefits and ability to determine that proceeds are dedicated to positive impact. Objective

Aims to maximise the return of the portfolio, within portfolio constraints, by investing in a broadly diversified portfolio of eligible intermediate term domestic and global fixed interest and money market securities whilst also taking into account certain environmental, sustainability impact and social considerations.

Investment approach

Seeks exposure to a diversified portfolio of intermediate term domestic global and fixed interest and money market securities with the potential for capital appreciation and income. In considering environmental and sustainability impact and other social factors ('Sustainability Criteria') that the manager believes may be important to investors, the manager may consider carbon and other greenhouse emissions, or potential emissions, land use, biodiversity, involvement in toxic spills or releases, operational waste, water use, coal, tobacco, child labour, alcohol, adult entertainment, gambling, factory farming activities, palm oil, personal firearms, manufacture of controversial weapons and manufacture and maintenance of nuclear weapons components and systems among other factors. In particular, the manager may exclude securities of issuers that it considers to have high carbon or greenhouse gas emissions or reserves that may produce those emissions. The exposure to corporate issuers will generally be adjusted based on the Sustainability Criteria identified above. Investments in securities of sovereign issuers are generally not subject to the Sustainability Criteria identified above. The manager will generally exclude or underweight securities of supranational organisations and certain non-sovereign governmental agencies that may be less sustainable as compared to other similar issuers, based upon the Sustainability Criteria.

Objective
Aims to provide a total return, consisting of capital appreciation and income, by gaining exposure to a diversified portfolio of securities listed on approved developed markets, and domestic and global fixed interest securities.

Investment approach

The fund will seek to target approximately 70% exposure to equities and 30% exposure to fixed interest assets. Normally, the manager will gain some or all of its exposure by investing in other funds managed by it that invest in equity, real estate and fixed interest securities. Assumptions and disclaimers

1. The risk level is based on the Standard Risk Measure which allows investors to compare investment options (refer to the Product Disclosure Statement for more information about the risks of investing).
 2. Bloomberg Finance L.P. and its affiliates (collectively, 'Bloomberg') do not approve or endorse this material and disclaim all liability for any loss or damage of any kind arising out of the use of all or any part of this material.
 3. Maximum aggregate exposure to high yield assets will not exceed 50%.
 4. The fund may also invest in Australian or international shares proposed to be listed within six months of any such recognised exchange limited to 10% of the fund's net portfolio value. Currency hedges may be used from time to time.
 5. The manager evaluates companies that meet the investment approach set out above using an ESG and values-based criteria when deciding to select, retain or sell an investment. The values-based criteria means not investing in companies or issuers that derive a material proportion (5% or more) of their revenue* from: the manufacture or sale of alcohol or tobacco[^]; the operation of gambling facilities or the manufacture or supply of gambling products; fossil fuels (exploration and extraction); uranium and nuclear; animal cruelty (cosmetic testing); genetic engineering; pornography; or armaments (including weapons)[^].
- * Generally calculated using the total gross amount of income generated by the sale of goods or services from normal business operations.
[^] For involvement in the production of tobacco, the manufacture of nicotine alternatives and tobacco-based products and the development, production and maintenance of controversial weapons, a 0% revenue threshold is applied.
- Additionally, companies are scored (both positively and negatively) on a broad range of ESG factors such as the company's environmental policy and strategy and consideration of ESG factors in its supply chain management. Companies can receive negative scores for poor management of ESG risk issues, such as a poor approach to human rights, the environment, and corporate governance or supply chains. All company positive and negative scores are totalled, and companies that received a negative overall score fail this criteria and are excluded from investment.
6. The gearing level is the underlying fund's borrowings divided by the total gross value of the underlying fund's assets. It will depend on the present levels and future expectation of the fund's net income (income after fees and expenses and excluding franking credits) and the cost of borrowings. The underlying fund has a gearing range of 0-60%, with the typical target level within this range being between 50-60%. This target is only an indication of the targeted gearing level of the underlying fund. Actual gearing levels of the fund may differ. If the underlying fund's gearing level exceeds 60% (due to withdrawals or negative market movements), the manager will reduce the gearing level to 60% (or lower) within a reasonable period of time by repaying part of the borrowings through inflows or selling some of the underlying fund's assets.
 7. The underlying fund invests predominately in shares listed on any recognised global exchange. The underlying fund may also invest in shares proposed to be listed within six months on any such recognised exchange, limited to 10% of the Fund's net asset value.
 8. Cash may be held in Australian (AUD) or foreign currencies.
 9. The underlying fund's exposure to derivatives is limited to 10% of the fund's net asset value in exceptional circumstances. Derivatives used to manage foreign exchange risk are excluded from this limit.
 10. The fund may invest in fixed income funds that allow gearing.
 11. The fund may gain its exposure to Australian shares by investing in one or more underlying Australian share funds. Where the fund invests in the Perpetual Australian Share Fund, that underlying fund invests predominantly in Australian shares listed on or proposed to be listed on any recognised Australian exchange but may have up to 20% exposure to international shares listed on or proposed to be listed on any recognised global exchange. The allocation guidelines showing the fund's maximum investment in international shares do not include this potential additional exposure. Underlying Australian share funds may use short positions as part of their investment strategy. Currency hedges may be used from time to time.
 12. The manager may allocate up to 30% of the portfolio to other assets which may include, but is not limited to, infrastructure, mortgages (including mezzanine mortgages), private equity, opportunistic property, absolute return funds, commodities and real return strategies. Exposure to other assets aims to enhance the fund's diversification and may help reduce volatility.
