

How the Account Guardian operates

An Account Guardian can be nominated to temporarily hold a LifeBuilder or ChildBuilder investment in the event of the death of the last surviving owner, where a future transfer of a LifeBuilder account has been requested and the intended recipient has not attained 16 years of age or the future transfer date has not been reached (whichever is the later), or in the case of ChildBuilder the vesting date/age has not been reached.

What can an Account Guardian do?

An Account Guardian can operate separately to, and is not subject to the terms of any will or a power of attorney you may have. An Account Guardian has limited capacity to alter your investment arrangements and would be permitted to:

- update account details
- make investment switches
- make additional contributions
- receive information about the account
- appoint a financial adviser, including the authority to approve the deduction of adviser fees

An Account Guardian is restricted from surrendering, transferring, assigning, or making a withdrawal from the account, unless specifically authorised by you. They are also restricted from making changes to any existing LifeBuilder Future Event Transfer arrangement or ChildBuilder vesting arrangement, or changing or adding a life insured.

Nominating or changing an Account Guardian

You can nominate up to two individuals aged 18 years or more to act as an Account Guardian. Where two individual Account Guardians are nominated, they may act jointly or severally.

To nominate an Account Guardian, simply complete the Account Guardian Nomination Form. Once the LifeBuilder future transfer recipient has either attained 16 years of age or the future transfer date has been reached (whichever is the later), or in the case of ChildBuilder the vesting date/age has been reached, the Account Guardian nomination will be automatically revoked. An Account Guardian can also resign their position or can be changed at any time by completing and signing an Account Guardian Nomination Form. An Account Guardian's nomination is revoked automatically upon their death or mental incapacity.

What happens if there is no Account Guardian appointed after your death?

If, as a result of a change to the Account Guardian's status, (for example the resignation, death or mental incapacity of an individual Account Guardian) there is no Account Guardian appointed, then your estate's legal representative will become responsible for the operation of the account and has the same rights and powers as the Account Guardian to allow them to operate your account until your account transfers to the child/recipient.

Terms of use

In the case of a LifeBuilder account, the Account Guardian will hold the investment on trust for the recipient. In the case of ChildBuilder, the Account Guardian will hold the investment for the child. We may cancel the Account Guardian arrangement or vary these the terms and conditions of use after providing notice.
