Investment objective

The fund's strategy is designed to deliver absolute returns by managing long and short exposures in global equity, fixed income, currency and commodity markets. The investment objective is long-term total return. The manager aims to produce a portfolio that seeks to outperform the Bloomberg AusBond Bank Bill Index² (before fees and tax).

Investment approach

The manager seeks to take long and short positions in a range of global equity, bond, currency and commodity markets using exchange traded and over the counter derivatives, including futures, forward currency proprietary contracts, swaps on commodity indices as well as making other investments. The manager utilises investment models for systematic global tactical asset allocation and equity, bond, currency and commodity market selection.

About the investment manager
