

Account Guardian Nomination Form

Generation Life Investment Bonds - ChildBuilder/LifeBuilder

How the Account Guardian operates

An Account Guardian can be nominated to temporarily hold a LifeBuilder investment on behalf and for the benefit of the intended Future Event transfer recipient where:

- a Future Event transfer on the death of the last surviving owner has been requested, and the intended recipient has not attained 16 years of age, or
- a specific Future Event transfer date was nominated, and the recipient is under 16 years of age on the nominated Future Event transfer
- a specific Future Event transfer date was nominated, and the nominated future transfer date has not been reached on the death of the last surviving owner.

An Account Guardian can also be nominated to temporarily hold a ChildBuilder investment on behalf of the nominated child if the last surviving owner has passed and the child has not reached vesting age.

What can an Account Guardian do?

An Account Guardian can operate separately to, and is not subject to the terms of any will or power of attorney you may have. An Account Guardian has limited capacity to alter your investment arrangements and would be permitted to:

- update account details
- make investment switches
- make additional contributions
- receive information about the account
- appoint a financial adviser, including the authority to approve the deduction of adviser fees

A LifeBuilder Account Guardian may also appoint up to 3 individual Co-Signatories or 1 corporate Co-Signatory to an account.

An Account Guardian is restricted from surrendering, transferring, assigning, or making a withdrawal from the account, unless specifically authorised by you. They are also restricted from changing or revoking the nominated transferee recipient or child (in the case of ChildBuilder), or changing or adding a life insured.

Nominating an Account Guardian

You can nominate up to three individuals aged 18 years or above to act as an Account Guardian. Where at least two individual Account Guardians are nominated, you can elect to have them act jointly or severally. Alternatively, you can nominate a company entity to act as an Account Guardian.

In the case of a LifeBuilder account, once the recipient attains 16 years of age and the nominated transfer date has been attained, the Account Guardian nomination will be automatically revoked. In the case of ChildBuilder, once the child has reached vesting age, the Account Guardian nomination will be automatically revoked.

Changing or adding an Account Guardian

You can change your Account Guardian nomination(s) or add an Account Guardian prior to a transfer date or event at any time by completing and signing an Account Guardian Nomination Form. An Account Guardian can resign their position at any time either prior to or after the transfer event. An individual Account Guardian's nomination is revoked automatically upon their death or mental incapacity.

You have the flexibility to give authority to your appointed Account Guardian(s) to make additional Account Guardian appointments after the transfer event has occurred. If you have appointed a company Account Guardian, then you can provide authority for the appointed company Account Guardian to appoint a replacement Account Guardian.

What happens if there is no Account Guardian appointed after your death?

If you pass away before your recipient is eligible to take ownership, and no Account Guardian is appointed, the LifeBuilder or ChildBuilder investment will be held by your estate representative on trust on behalf of the recipient (or child) until the nominated transfer or vesting date.

If your LifeBuilder investment is held by your estate representative, they will not be able to revoke or amend the transfer request. If your ChildBuilder investment is held by your estate representative, they will not be able to revoke or amend the nominated child or vesting date.

You can also elect to restrict your estate representative's ability to make a withdrawal from your investment, transfer ownership of the investment or use the investment as security.

► FORM CONTINUES OVER PAGE

What happens if there is no Account Guardian appointed after the wind up of a trust or estate owner?

If the original trust or deceased estate owner is wound up before the recipient is eligible to take ownership and there is no Account Guardian, the recipient's legal guardian will be required to hold the account on trust on behalf of the recipient. The recipient's legal guardian becomes responsible for the operation of the account and has the same rights and powers as an Account Guardian (refer above to 'What can an Account Guardian do?' section) to allow them to operate the account until the recipient is eligible to take ownership in their own right.

The legal guardian would be restricted from surrendering, transferring, assigning, or making a withdrawal from the account.

What happens if there is no Account Guardian appointed, the nominated Future Event transfer date has been attained, and the recipient is under 16 years of age?

If the recipient is under 16 years of age at the time the future transfer occurs, and there is no Account Guardian, the original owner (or the last surviving owner for joint accounts) will be required to hold the account on trust on behalf of the recipient from the Future Event transfer date until the recipient attains 16 years of age.

The original owner (or the last surviving owner for joint accounts) will be responsible for the operation of the account and has the same rights and powers as an Account Guardian. However, as the account will be held on trust by the original owner, they will have the added authority to surrender, transfer, assign, or make a withdrawal from the account to allow them to operate the account until the recipient is eligible to take ownership in their own right.

If the last surviving owner has passed, then the account will instead be held by the last surviving owner's estate representative on trust on behalf of the recipient. However, the estate representative will be restricted from surrendering, transferring, assigning, or making a withdrawal from the account.

Terms of use

In the case of a LifeBuilder account, the Account Guardian will hold the investment on trust for the recipient. In the case of ChildBuilder, the Account Guardian will hold the investment for the child. We may cancel the Account Guardian arrangement or vary the terms and conditions of use after providing notice.
