

Case study

Accessing the Age Pension sooner

LifelIncome | Investment-linked lifetime annuity

Did you know that you can potentially qualify for or bring forward the age of access to the Age Pension and ancillary benefits?

Meet Susan...

Susan is 66 years old, single and a homeowner.

$750,000

Superannuation balance

$90,000

Savings

$10,000

Personal assets

Susan's objectives

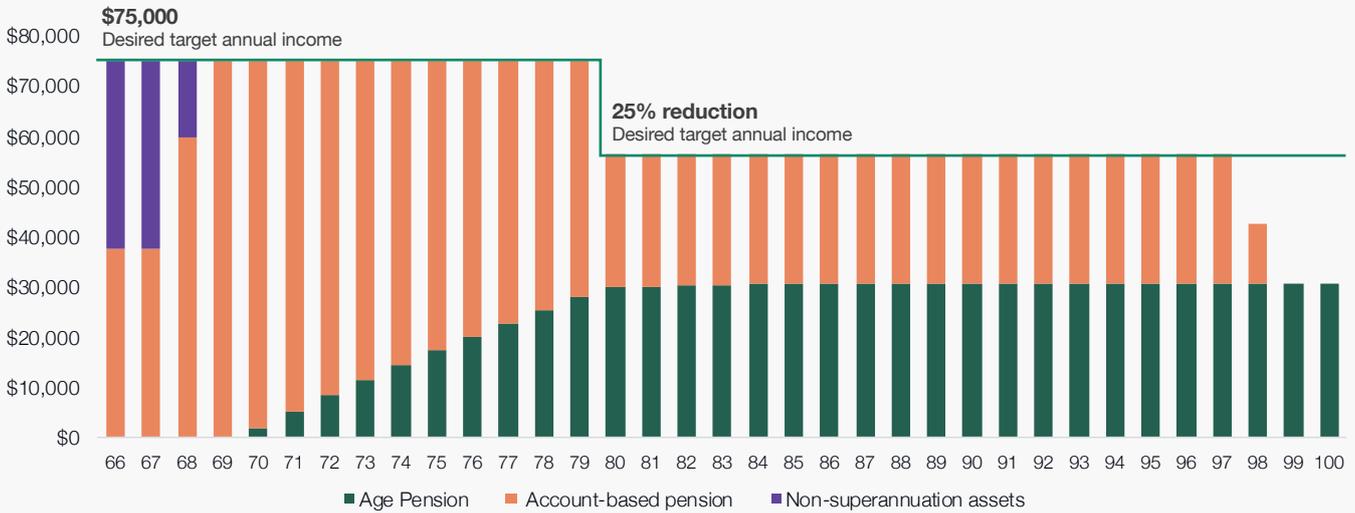

Wants to be proactive and access the Age Pension sooner to maintain her desired lifestyle

Wants certainty that she won't run out of money

Doesn't want to solely rely on the Age Pension

Susan's current situation

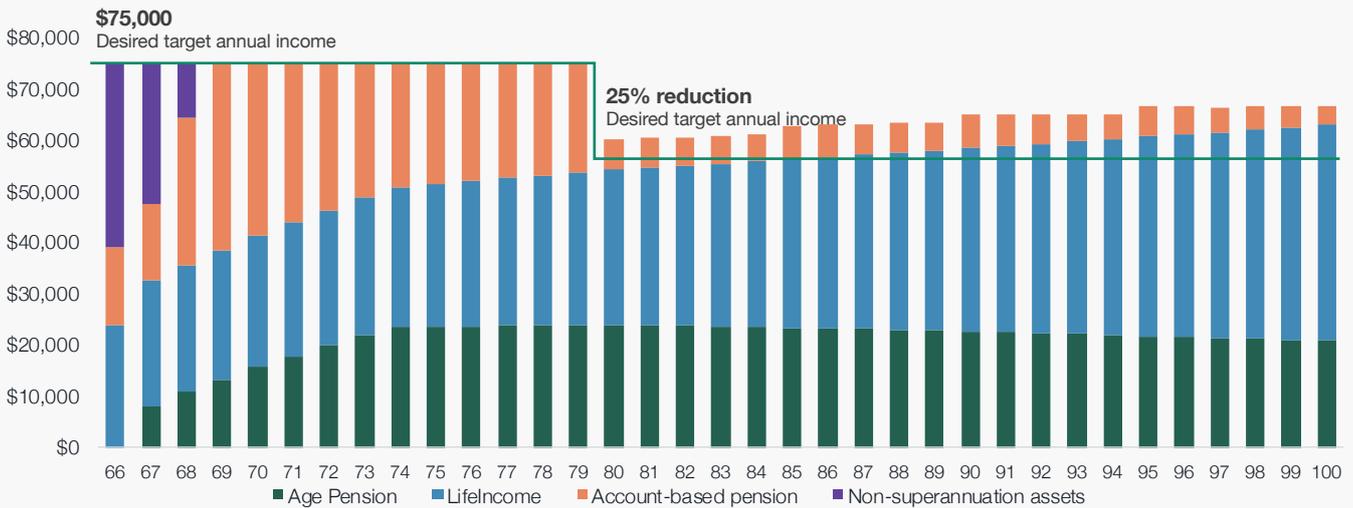

If she commences an account-based pension with her superannuation, Susan will only gain access to the Age Pension, and the ancillary benefits of the Age Pension, from age 70. In this scenario, her account-based pension will run out and she will be solely dependent on the Age Pension.

Susan's outcome

Susan speaks to her financial adviser and invests $450,000 of her superannuation balance into LifelIncome and a FuneralBond of $15,750.

Susan is now able to maintain her desired income target and almost double her income in later years. She is also able to add an additional layer of income guaranteed for life from LifelIncome and never has to rely on the Age Pension alone.

Age 67

Immediate access to Age Pension and ancillary benefits

$107,848

Uplift in cumulative Age Pension by age 75

$448,944

Additional cumulative income by age 100 (including Age Pension)

$25,694

Account-based pension balance by age 100

$158,189

Additional cumulative income above desired income target

12 years

Payback period of investment into LifelIncome¹

Planning ahead...

Access more of the Age Pension, sooner

Australians often apply for the Age Pension well after the time they become eligible, on average about 2.3 years after.² It is estimated that single retirees are losing an average of $37,000 in Age Pension entitlements due to delays in applying for the Age Pension while couples are estimated to lose close to $60,000.²

Generation Life's LIFELINE is defined as an 'asset-tested income stream (lifetime)' product for social security purposes and provides the potential to access some or more of the Age Pension and ancillary benefits such as discounted council rates and cheaper medicine under the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme.

Centrelink and the Department of Veterans' Affairs entitlements are determined using two 'means' tests: an assets test and an income test.

Means tested asset value	Under the assets test, only 60% of your investment amount is assessed. From age 85, subject to a minimum of 5 years from the date of investment, only 30% is assessed.
Means tested income	Only 60% of your LIFELINE annual income is assessed under the income test.

Generation Life's FuneralBond is exempt (up to certain limits) from the social security assets test and deeming provisions for the income test that applies to the Age Pension, Service Pension and other means-tested government entitlements. This means there's also the potential to improve pension benefits during your lifetime or to reduce aged care costs.

LIFELINE

Investment-linked lifetime annuity

LIFELINE, our investment-linked lifetime annuity, delivers more income, more certainty, more flexibility and more choice to meet retirement goals. LIFELINE provides regular income for life that's linked to the performance of your chosen investment option(s), which you can switch between when needed³. LIFELINE also provides the ability to receive income earlier, often when needed most.

It is designed to optimise the level of income in retirement and complement other retirement solutions such as an account-based pension. LIFELINE can also assist with maximising Age Pension entitlements through social security asset and income test concessions.

Footnotes

1. The ‘payback period’ is the estimated time for the return of your investment in the form of cumulative income, as well as any increase in Age Pension which you may receive as a result of investing into LifelIncome and FuneralBond.
2. Source: The most expensive mistake retirees can make, SuperEd, published 2015
3. Brief excursion period applies – refer to the Product Disclosure Statement
4. If you are commencing LifelIncome with superannuation money, you can only nominate your spouse to receive your income after you pass away. If you are commencing LifelIncome with non-superannuation money you can nominate your spouse or any other person such as your child or sibling.

Assumptions for Susan’s retirement income illustrations

Based on a LifelIncome policy for Susan allocating 60% of her superannuation to LifelIncome with a LifeBooster 2.5% rate. Her remaining superannuation balance is used to commence an account-based pension, drawing income to meet her desired income target. Annual income illustrations are shown in real dollars. Cumulative income figures are shown in nominal dollars. Estimated fees, expenses and costs of 0.5% p.a. for the account-based pension and 1.17% p.a. for LifelIncome. Fees on LifelIncome are a percentage of the annual income. There are no fees on income from LifelIncome in the first financial year you commence LifelIncome. Assumed investment returns of superannuation assets is 8% p.a., non-superannuation assets at 3% p.a. and inflation of 2.5% p.a. No adviser fees have been charged and social security rates and thresholds are valid at 01/01/2026.
